PARISH PRINTS

February 2010

I asked a dear pastor friend not far removed from the time of his death, "What would you change in your ministry if you could do it over again?" His response was "I would preach more Gospel."

Everything that we yearn for, God has wrapped up for us in His Valentine that says "I love you." That's good news to me. God lives. God loves. God invites. God forgives. We yearn for God's love. We desire God's gifts. We want the grace of our Lord Jesus that He gave..." That He gave of His grace that we might have it, use it, and return it to Him in thanksgiving and praise.

We have so recently been warmed by the good news as we worshipped the infant Christ at the manger. We heard "His name shall be called Jesus, for He will save His people from their sins." We followed the star and saw the Child whom Magi adore. We view His life as He gives Himself in healing, feeding, forgiving, worshipping, raising from the dead...giving us life beyond all yearning.

Very soon we will move into the Lenten season, and review the sinful state that brought the death of Christ for our redemption. But praise the Lord, we do not have a dead Christ; we have a living Lord, God's good Valentine to all who believe. The message of the risen Christ is for all; right now, right here, as the Holy Spirit opens the Valentine to all who receive it.

My personal life has been in response to this valentine of God's love; to God's grace. When I was fourteen years old, and had completed three years in preparation for confirmation, I was sure that God was calling me to be a pastor. I went through the "system" of some elementary Christian education, six years in prep school, four years of seminary - and out into the world preaching the Gospel, in service to Christ.

One of the great joys of my life occurred while I was on my Vicarage. In my third year of Seminary, I was assigned to three parishes in Nevada: an ammunition depot, an airplane base, and a marine base, gathering groups of people in worship and service under the power of the Spirit, thanking God for the growth of His people.

It was at the beginning of this year that God sent me a special valentine - Edith, the daughter of my supervising pastor. By the end of the Vicarage year, Edith and I announced our engagement. That special Valentine, gift of God's love, has worked for us for 62 years.

There have been many joys under the blessing of God. Edith and I have had eight children, one of them went to be with Jesus just two days after birth. Edith speaks of the sorrow in her heart "I never had the chance to hold our Nancy Ellen." Our fifteen grandchildren and five great grandchildren are extra special valentines in our lives.

During active ministry we have served eight congregations in full time ministry, and seven congregations or mission stations part time. We are grateful to God for the life of service He blessed us with; Jesus Christ our Lord, for the privilege of being His servants.

Council Highlights

- Monthly Caring Conversation for January included the sharing of many blessings to be thankful for from all star points and members.
- Worship Team is in need of a new member to help Jan Kier with monthly planning and coordination.
- No feedback from congregation regarding proposed changes for the space currently housing the library. Darlene Thauland will work on distributing books and clearing the space.
- Ben and Alice Kaster and Jeff Oltmann have agreed to serve on the selection team for the Family Life Minister staff vacancy.
- Council unanimously agreed to the creation of a stewardship team that will focus on unique and inspirational methods to communicate the gifts and blessings we enjoy as children of the Lord.
- Council unanimously agreed to a 6 week trial of a Kids Club program on Saturday mornings that will include family worship and children's bible study aimed at our school age families.
- School Board and Council are exploring possible acquisition of some recently available modular buildings at Concordia College that would increase our current POP school classroom capacity.
- Amazing Grey's will dedicate the next few months to service projects to support on-going Haiti relief efforts

It's Sunday Morning, Do you know where your name tag is?

Did you know that the use of personal names is not unique to humans? Dolphins will use individual whistles to which they respond even when there appears to be no other information clarifying which dolphin is being called. What is your name? If you have a name tag here at Prince of Peace, don't forget to wear it and make it easier for our newest members and visitors in our congregation to call you..

Human Care

Whenever you see a sale and it might have a "Buy One, Get One Free," think of our pantry! We always need the powder laundry detergent to break down into zip locks to distribute. Our clients like having cleaning items along with the food.

Our list for this month is: Laundry Detergent, Rice, Jams and Jellies, Cereal, Mayonnaise.

If you can't get to the store, donations are great and we'll do the shopping for you! We do thank you for each and every item you bring to our pantry!

Most of all...

Please Remember Good Shepherd Sunday - the first Sunday of the month or any Sunday that fits your needs!

Haiti:

Amazing Grey's will be supporting the Relief collection effort for Haiti. Our blessing box collection on Sunday March 21st and March 28th will be contributed to relief funds for Haiti. This will be a matched donation if we are able to send in our donation to LCMS World Relief and Human Care by March 31st. Thrivent will match the donations to this organization at $1 for every $2 donated up to a max of $250. Donations will also be matched by Thrivent for individual Thrivent members.

Should you want to donate earlier there is a simple way that Thrivent has set up:

Thrivent Financial members can help Haitian earthquake victims by making a gift online at www.thrivent.com/helpinghaiti or by phone at 800-236-3736 between 7 AM and 6PM CST, Monday through Friday. (At telephone prompt, please say "directory" then enter 83003). Thrivent Financial will match a maximum of $250 per Thrivent member donation. The matching gift opportunity ends March 31st.

Call Anne Seim if you have questions and if you have already donated there is a way to have that matched if it was sent to one of these organizations: Lutheran world Relief, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America Disaster Response and Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod Committee on Relief.

The Rev. Matthew Harrison, executive director of LCMS WR-HC, called the need tremendous and stated "What a blessing it is for Lutherans to have this opportunity to partner with Thrivent Financial for matching funds for Haitian relief." They are on the ground and running the program already. There is little overhead through this program so more of your money actually is working for the relief needed. Having an organization that is already in place makes a big difference.

Remember to count your blessings and share them through your additions to your blessing boxes. Boxes are available in the entryway to the church if you do not have yours.

SPIRITUAL GIFTS

By Mary C. Miller

Now there are different kinds of spiritual gifts, but it is the same Holy Spirit who is the source of them all. There are different kinds of service in the church, but it is the same Lord we are serving.

1 Corinthians 12: 4-5

The huge sanctuary in Rockefeller Chapel was filled to overflowing with the educated elite that the world-class University of Chicago welcomes. Unamplified, a voice from the balcony behind us introduced the beautiful but extensive program, J. S. Bach's The Passion According to Saint John. Then he paused and added, "This evening, above all, is to give thanks to God for the indisputable genius of Johann Sebastian Bach and his gift to Christ's church.

It was a far cry from what the local city council recorded when Bach died. "Master Bach was a good organist," they wrote, "but certainly no math teacher."

J. S. Bach was born into a gifted musical family. By age eighteen he was well known as a concert organist and harpsichord player. Until his last year of life, people who heard him play would note, "I never thought anyone could play like that!"

After the death of his first wife and his remarriage, he moved his family from the secular court of Saint Thomas Church in Leipzig. Although the town council hired him to teach Latin and math, they allowed him to be organist and chapel master. That assignment required that he compose Christian music around the church year, producing worship pieces each Sunday. He wrote 295 sacred cantatas, yet he was criticized as lacking contemporary musical insight, as being too old fashioned and too religious. Only 9 or 10 of his compositions were published in his lifetime. He and the town council perpetually squabbled over his contract and fulfillment of his duties, especially teaching math to boys.

When he died at age 65, his library contained more books on theology and faith than on music, Latin or mathematics.

Bach was not fully appreciated for his gifts in his day, but we of later generations are thankful that he kept using those gifts while trying to carry on the other duties life demanded of him. Our gifts may not be at a genius level, but we still need to practice them if we are to do what God calls us to do with our lives.

Reflection: Is there a gift you're not fully using because of your schedule or because people just wouldn't understand? If you have a talent, use it in every way possible. Spend it like a millionaire intent on going broke. What are your spiritual gifts and how can you use them to serve God?

"Themes in Acts", February 14 - March 14, 2010

The Acts of the Apostles has Jesus set a program for activity for his followers. He tells them they will be empowered by the Spirit to proclaim the kingdom in Jerusalem, then to Judea, Samaria, and finally to the very ends of the earth (Acts 1:8). Find yourself a globe sometime, a stick pin and a piece of string. Push the stick pin through the middle of the string and into Jerusalem, then feed the string through your fingers until it reaches the other side of the world. You will end up just off the American coast in the Pacific Ocean. We really do live at "the end of the earth" in one sense. The Acts of the Apostles sets the program for the faith of God's people as they come to trust in the Jesus who leads and attends them on this journey to the end of the world in all its senses. In the season of Lent we want to focus our attention on these Acts of the Apostles together in the Adult Bible Study as we explore the themes of Acts.

Our study leader will be Pastor Phillip Brandt, Associate Professor of Theology at Concordia University in Portland where he teaches courses in Biblical Theology, Historical theology, and Lutheran Confessions. He has served congregations in Utah and Oregon and makes his home near Concordia's campus with his wife, Stephanie, and three children. Please plan to attend. The Acts of the Apostles will shape and inform your own journey of discipleship and witness. The studies will each be self-contained, so you may attend the weeks your schedule permits.

Q. What is the significance of Lent?

A. Early in the Church's history, the major events in Christ's life were observed with special observances, such as His birth, baptism, death, resurrection and ascension. As these observances developed, a period of time was set aside prior to the major events of Jesus' birth and resurrection as a time of preparation. During Lent, the Church's worship assumes a more penitential character. The color for the season is purple, a color often associated with penitence. The "Hymn of Praise" is omitted from the liturgy. The word "Alleluia" is usually omitted as well. By not using the alleluia--a joyful expression meaning "Praise the Lord"--until Easter, the Lenten season is clearly set apart as a distinct time from the rest of the year. Additionally, it forms a powerful contrast with the festive celebration of Jesus' resurrection when our alleluias ring loud and clear. Finally, the penitential character of Lent is not its sole purpose. In the ancient Church, the weeks leading up to Easter were a time of intensive preparation of the candidates who were to be baptized at the Easter vigil on Holy Saturday. This time in the Church's calendar was seen as an especially appropriate time for Baptism because of the relationship between Christ's death and resurrection and our own in Holy Baptism (see Romans 6:1-11). This focus would suggest that the season of Lent serves not only as a time to meditate on the suffering that Christ endured on our behalf but also as an opportunity to reflect upon our own Baptism and what it means to live as a child of God.

Health Ministry Congregational Survey

is coming the third week of February. This survey is to evaluate the wellness levels (body, mind, and spirit) of our congregational members. Your participation will benefit all of us in helping plan for future activities to meet the needs of our members. In preparation for answering your surveys, I would like you to have a brief explanation of wellness as viewed by the Parish Nurses in utilizing a tool known as the Wellness Wheel.

A New Creation

You are a new creation in Christ. All of you - mind, body and spirit. But until you go to heaven to be with your creator, you are still a work in progress. Martin Luther first stated "This life, therefore, is not godliness but the process of becoming godly, not health, but getting well, not being but becoming, not rest but exercise. We are not now what we shall be, but we are on our way. The process is not yet finished, but it is actively going on. This is not the goal but it is the right road. At present, everything does not gleam and sparkle, but everything is being cleansed."

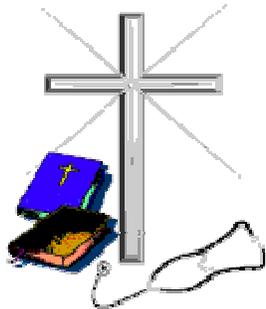

Although, this is the shortest month of the year, it is sure to be an eventful one. Ash Wednesday and the Beginning of Lent takes the church into a whole new season, with the anticipation of the Resurrection of our Lord and Savior.

I know many of you are thinking of football, Super Bowl, The Colts versus the Saints. And the Winter Olympics in Vancouver will be starting this month. Much more exciting than the doldrums of the dark days of January, after our Celebrations of the Season of the Light of the World -Jesus.

February is also National Heart Month. Heart Disease is the number one killer of both men and women in the U.S. Most of the statistics you hear about in regards to heart disease have to do with studies that were conducted on men. So, did you know that 80% of women ages 40-60 have one or more risk factors for heart disease? Those Risk factors include High Blood Pressure, Smoking, Obesity, Elevated Cholesterol levels and Inactivity? Having one or more risk factors dramatically increases a woman's chance of developing heart disease, because risk factors tend to worsen each other's effects. And it starts as early as our teenage years. Yes, that early!!

God has given us the job to care for the body He gave us, by doing all we can to keep healthy. All of us have this responsibility.

Please join me this month in working toward a healthy heart lifestyle. Also join me Friday February 5th for National Go Red For Women. A National Campaign to Honor Women with Heart disease. We would like to carry this to our Sunday February 7th service and Wear Red for Women and Heart Disease as well.

Wellness Wheel

The center of the wheel reminds us that we are created by God as well as baptized in His waters. Symbolically the body's major element is water. The pieces of the pie do not have definitive edges because they are constantly changing.

•Social well-being - We are created by God to be social persons and are instructed to help and love each other. We are nourished by love and intimacy from family and friends. Isolation is a significant risk for depression and premature death. Volunteering in the service to others actually lengthens life.

•Emotional well-being - Being emotionally well means feeling the full range of emotions and expressing them appropriately. Not having emotions or expressing them inappropriately is a sign of stress or depression. Physical stress can also affect our emotions and vice versa.

•Physical well-being - We are marvelously created by God. We are not all born perfectly healthy, and no one makes it through life without injury or illness, with care and nurturing we can all live well even with disabilities, injuries, or illness. Those with good health can lose it because of unhealthy habits. How we choose to see our level of wholeness depends on how we have adapted to our physical well-being.

•Financial well-being - In this we are called to be good stewards, making decisions based on values, decisions on saving, spending and sharing. This is difficult during our current economic recession.

•Vocational well-being - A sense of purpose is important in living a healthy life. We all want to feel that we are using the gifts that God has given us to make this world a better place. We need to be aware of what those gifts are. Through our employment or volunteering we can fulfill our sense of purpose and feel satisfaction.

•Intellectual well-being - Challenging our minds and keeping them sharp, experiencing new things, music, art, hobbies, etc., or pushing ourselves with new responsibilities, are all ways we learn to keep our minds sharp.

•Spiritual well-being - The circle is surrounded by the Spiritual well-being - which represents loving God with all our heart, soul and strength. It impacts everything we do and everything we are. Starting with spiritual health makes balancing the wheel much easier because we know whose we are. Nurturing our relationship with God through daily prayer or devotion is the first step. Knowing that God is always present, allows us to stumble along the way and keeps us from getting lost. Jesus' death, God's gift of grace to us, keeps us moving on the right path.

Tandoori Chicken

Low Sodium Recipe with lots of flavor

Resource: DASH Diet Eating Plan - www.dashdietoregon.org

Serves 6

Dietitian's Tip:

Tandoori chicken is spice-filled and offers a lot of flavor, but isn't necessarily hot. Consider cutting back on the amount of crushed hot red pepper flakes if you'd like to go easy on the heat. Tame the spiciness with a dollop of cool plain lowfat or fat-free yogurt. Serve with steamed brown basmati rice and green peas.

Ingredients:

- 1 cup plain nonfat yogurt
- ½ cup lemon juice
- 5 garlic cloves, crushed
- 2 tbsp paprika
- 1 tsp yellow curry powder
- 1 tsp ground ginger
- 1 tsp crushed hot red pepper flakes (use ½ tsp for milder flavor)
- 6 skinless, boneless chicken breasts cut into 1-2 inch pieces
- 6 skewers soaked in water for at least 15 minutes

Preparation:

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Combine yogurt, lemon juice, garlic, paprika, yellow curry powder, ginger and red pepper flakes in a blender and process until smooth.

Skewer an equal amount of chicken pieces onto each of the soaked skewers. Place chicken skewers in a shallow casserole dish. Add half of the yogurt mixture, reserving the remainder. Cover and chill for about 15 minutes.

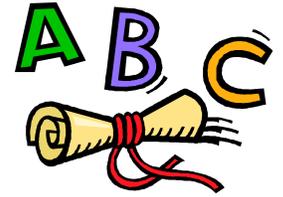

Spray another shallow baking dish with cooking spray. Remove chicken skewers, discard the yogurt marinade, and place chicken skewers in prepared dish. Brush chicken with reserved yogurt mixture. Bake for 15-20 minutes or until juices run clear when meat is pierced. Serve immediately. For a slightly more authentic preparation grill the chicken skewers over medium-high heat for 3-5 minutes per side.

Hearts

What would Valentine's Day be without hearts? How many different words can you think of with the word heart? There are: brokenhearted, fainthearted, hardhearted, heartache, kindhearted, tenderhearted, stouthearted, wholehearted, bighearted and more. The Bible contains more than 650 references to the heart.

What do some of the heart passages say? Here are some good ones to look up. Have a heart-to-heart talk about them with your family. Make them your Valentine-a-day for the month of the heart:

School Enrollment

Registration for 2010-11 continues. Tell everyone you know that a Christ-centered, academically excellent education can be found at Prince of Peace School. Classes for 2010-11 include 3 and 4 year old preschool, pre-K, Kindergarten, 1st grade and 2nd grade. Check out our website or call the school office for more details.

Professional Development

Teachers are learners, too. Friday February 5, is a professional development day for our teachers. (A no school day for the kids.) The teachers will meet with specialists from Advanced Pediatric Therapies to learn more about sensory processing development in children. We ask God's blessing as we seek to learn and become better educators.

Loving Service

John 15:11-12 [Jesus said] "These things I have spoken to you, that My joy may remain in you and that your joy may be full. This is My commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you."

During the month of February the school children will have the opportunity to put their love for Jesus into loving service for others. They will enjoy making tokens of love to share with their families. They will exchange greetings of friendship with each other at annual Valentine parties.

Our chapel offering for February will be going to Jamii Moja which is a non-profit organization focused on helping impoverished African communities to improve their quality of life. Maji Moto is an area comprised of several villages of Maasai located in southwestern Kenya. Our offering will help to build wells for water for the Maasai people and their livestock. Teaching our children about the opportunity and joy of giving is an important life lesson. Even these little ones can learn the joy of lovingly serving others as they follow Jesus.

"Farmer John needs a vacation. Before putting his brother Bob in charge of the farm, he writes clear instructions for taking care of the animals. Duck does some creative editing and wild mayhem ensues. Bubble-bathing pigs, pizza-eating chickens, and cows at the movies highlight this barn-raising moosical.

VALENTINE BREADSTICKS

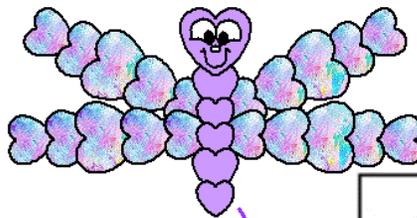

- Ingredients: 1 - 11 oz. can refrigerated soft breadsticks
- 2 tablespoons grated parmesan cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon dried thyme leaves, crushed

Directions:

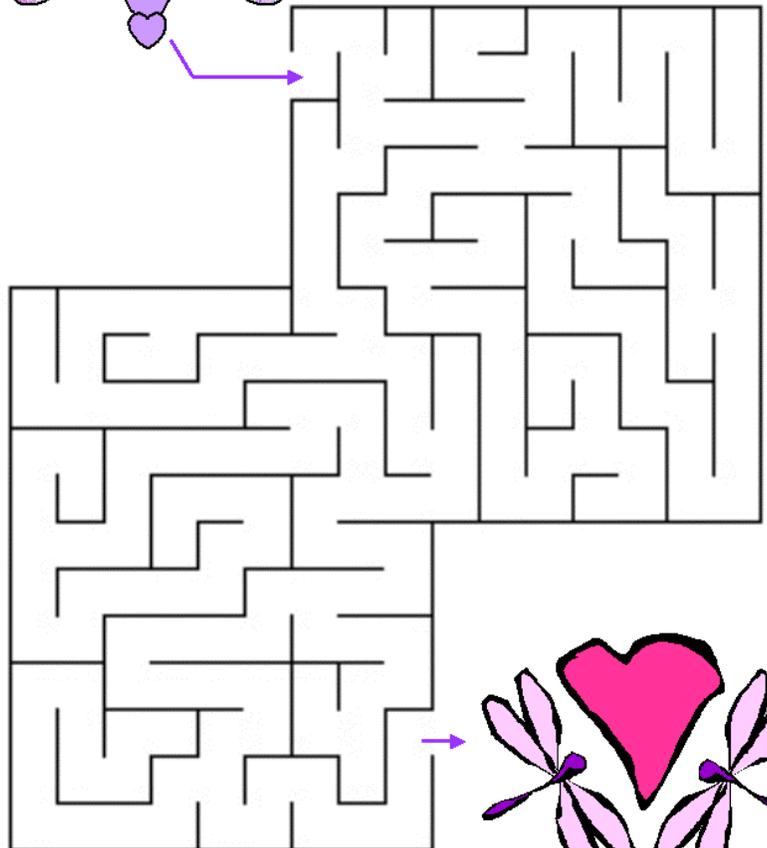

1. Open can of breadstick dough and separate into 12 pieces.
2. Take the pieces and roll them, one at a time between your hands to form a small rope.
3. Twist two pieces of the dough together.
4. Form into a heart shape on a cookie sheet. Make sure that the bottom point is pressed together well.
5. Repeat with remaining breadstick dough.
6. Sprinkle heart shapes with cheese and thyme.
7. Bake in 350 degree oven for 15 minutes or until lightly browned.
8. Makes 6 valentine breadsticks.
