Who attends HomePlate dinners? It is a very diverse group. At our December dinner we served about 100 people (more than usual). The youngest person was just over two weeks old – a baby born to young parents served by us. We serve elementary schoolers to young adults, since HomePlate's cutoff age is 26. We see all genders and ethnicities. Some are immigrants and some have lived here since birth. They all have one thing in common – they need food, support, and people who care about them.
